

The Rotary Line's Prayer

My autumn comes:

shorn though I am
of all vestments
still I am the priestess
of the garden, naked
and adorned with
frosty pearls
of spiders' webs
for fane offerings.

I open my arms
to the sky
and am ready.